Dear Brent,

Since the bridge club owners, Rick and Val Covalciuc, are currently in Los Angeles at the Nationals and won't be back until July 28th, I wanted to be sure to respond to your very unique letter.

We applaud the obvious inventiveness of your system and marvel at the depths to which you have sunk in an effort to avoid really learning the game.

We feel that we are up to the challenge of detecting two dominant (and cheating) card players and look forward to your arrival!

Sincerely,

Anne Peiffer
Office Manager
